DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

Applicant has claimed a variety of compounds in claims 1-49, which vary so much in structure that there is no generic core structure which unites them all. In addition to being structurally different, the different compounds would be expected to have different effects on a method of treating. Additionally, there would be a huge burden if the election were not required to search and examine all the species claimed by applicant, which encompasses hundreds of compounds that vary significantly in structure and function. Thus, applicant is required to elect a single disclosed species of compound in which all variables have been specified, such as one of the compounds claimed in claim 33, 40, or 49.

Applicant is also required to provide a structural drawing of the elected compound, or point to where it has been already provided in the claims or the specification.

Applicants are cautioned that election of a specific compound which has not been specifically disclosed as filed may be determined to be new matter.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103 (a) of the other invention.
